Failed To Comply With U.S. Law

Red Party on Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communist party of the United States goes on trial today for refusing to register as an agent of the Soviet Union.

The criminal action marks one more step in the government's long fight to force Communists to comply with the 1950 Internal Security Act.

Party Blasts Trial

Angry statements from supporters of the party prefaced the trial.

"If the Justice Department is allowed to bring the Communist party to trial as scheduled," James J. Tormey said, "American democracy itself will be placed in the dock."

"No minority party, no American will be safe."

Tormey is executive secretary of the Defense Committee for

Hall and Benjamin J. Davis. In a separate case, Hall and Davis have been indicted for refusing to register as individual officers of the Communist party. The Justice Department identifies Hall as general secretary and Davis as national secretary of the party.

Hall said the trial of the party "denies the American people their right of political choice."

"For the first time in the history of our country," he continued, "a political party has been brought into a criminal court and put on trial."

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has explained that the 1950 act does not outlaw the Communist party but declares it "is a Communist-action organization, substantially controlled, dominated and directed by the Soviet Union."

The Supreme Court upheld the law's constitutionality in a 5-4 decision in June 1961.

Among other things, the law directed the party to register as a tool of Moscow, to list its officers and members and give an annual financial accounting.

The Justice Department set up registration deadlines for the party, its officers and its members.

When the deadlines passed without compliance, the party and leaders were indicted and the Justice Department set up the machinery for declaring individuals to be party members.

If convicted, the party may be fined up to $10,000 for each day it refuses to register and provide the information about its officers, members and finances.

Job-Creating Plan Approved

Business Leaders Okay Ohio Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A proposed plan to give Ohio 200,000 new jobs has received the stamp of approval by a committee of Buckeye State business leaders.

Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes, who proposed the plan during his campaign, called it the No. 1 program in Ohio to combat unemployment and promised the new legislature, which convenes Jan. 7, complete cooperation in working the plan.

The report by the committee called for a $200 million program to promote industrial development and research with financial help from the state through sale of revenue bonds without additional taxes on industry.

"In event new state taxes are necessary in this biennium, additional funds should be obtained from consumer-type taxes," the report said.

The study was submitted Monday by Jafes J. Nance, president of Cleveland's Central National Bank, and George E. Wilson, Area Development Committee.

The report was given to Rhodes and leaders of the 105th General Assembly.

The program would create a top-level authority of 25 members appointed by the governor to staggered three-year terms to serve without pay as an Ohio industrial sales force.

The authority would have separate seven-member commissions for developing industry and research. Members of each commission would be named by the governor to staggered seven-year terms, subject to Senate consent.

British Close In on Diehard Brunei Rebels

ANDUKI AIRPORT, Brunei —(AP)British troops recaptured most of the Brunei oilfield town of Seria today, then closed in on the police station where 50 diehard rebels were holding nine Europeans as hostages.

The nationality of the hostages was not known, but Brig. A. G. Patterson, British commander of the Seria operation, said no women or children were among them.

Army officers said a number of Europeans, mostly British employees of the Shell Oil Co., were liberated in Seria, and at least six rebels were killed and more than a dozen captured. No British casualties were reported.

It was the first major counter-attack since the revolt broke out last Saturday.

The rebels say they want to create an independent country on the north coast of Borneo out of the Study To Shape '63 Program

Foreign Aid Unit Appointed by JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has set up a bipartisan committee to take a hard, new look at the $4-billion-a-year foreign aid program and see if it's filling the bill.

Soviet Troop Removal Eyed

Withdrawal From Cuba Termed Slow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet troops are being withdrawn from Cuba at a very slow rate, U.S. officials said today. And although the United States is not pressing Russia on the issue it is expected to do so if the withdrawals are not speeded up fairly soon.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference Monday that the role of Soviet combat units in Cuba "is of great concern to us and something we will follow very carefully."

"Certainly we in this hemisphere could not accept as a normal situation any Soviet military presence in Cuba," he said.

The number of Soviet officers and men stationed on the Caribbean island is estimated at 9,000, to possibly 15,000—some organized, Rusk said, "into what appeared to be Soviet combat units."

He described the scale of Soviet power in Cuba as "modest ... but well armed."

"Whether these (troops) were there for the protection of certain sites, missile sites or otherwise, or for some other purpose is something that is being, of course, watched very carefully."

Rusk held his first regular news conference since last July a few hours before flying to Paris for the annual December Cabinet-level meeting of the 15-nation North Atlantic Council.

Rusk planned individual meetings there with Allied foreign ministers and said much of the discussion in the council sessions, opening Thursday, would be concerned with "the world situation," which includes Cuba, the India-Red China conflict and the crisis in relations between Red China and Russia.

In response to questions, Rusk appeared to take issue with former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who said recently that Britain had ceased to be a world power and had not yet found a new role. Rusk called Britain "one of the really great powers in this Atlantic community."

At the outset of the news conference, Rusk discounted the possibility of any significant developments at the NATO meeting.

As for Cuba, Rusk said that the U.S. government was informed that Soviet forces in Cuba for the protection of nuclear weapon bases would be withdrawn in due course.

This pledge—which was disclosed by President Kennedy at a news conference Nov. 20—was made by Premier Khrushchev in a letter to Kennedy that day.

Officials say that the promise was put in general rather than precise terms and it was not yet known here just how large the Soviet withdrawal would be.

Hunt Over, All Entombed Miners Dead

CARMICHAELS, Pa. (AP)—The search is all over for 37 miners entombed in a shattering explosion last Thursday in a soft-coal mine. Grim rescue crews, after almost a five-day search, found the last of the bodies Monday night.

State mine officials blamed the explosion on methane gas and coal dust. All were killed instantly.

The blast occurred at 1:15 p.m.

Former Salem Man Is Mine Victim

Russell Wright, 54, of Eden-borne, Pa., a former Salem resident and nephew of Mrs. Sarah F. Alexander of 574 Bank St., was one of the miners killed in the recent accident in the U. S. Steel Robina Mine near Uniontown, Pa.

Thursday in U.S. Steel Corporation's Robena No. 3 mine, one of the world's largest mechanized operations, 50 miles southwest of Pittsburgh.

U.S. Steel said the entire area—650 feet underground—had been explored and there was no signs of life.

Many bodies remained to be identified.

Forty-four other miners working in another part of the mine shaft at the time of the blast escaped unhurt.

Joe Seper of Ronco, whose brother, Charles J., 57, was killed in the blast, vowed:

"I quit the coal mines, even if I have to go on relief."

There was no immediate indication if or when the mine will reopen.

The last body was sighted shortly after 11 p.m. Monday night, ending a five-day vigil main-

New Storm Hits Eastern Half of Nation

Over 50 Deaths Reported; Florida Crops Threatened

By The Associated Press.
Snow closed schools and stranded motorists in the North today while freezing air threatened Florida's multi-million dollar crops today.

The icy one-two punch of wintry weather was the second to hit many areas in the eastern half of the nation since last Thursday.

Millions felt the sting of the cold, blustery weather. The heavy, blowing snow inconvenienced other millions.

Schools closed, travel slowed, and Christmas shoppers delayed buying tours.

Storm-related deaths soared past the 50 mark.

Weather forecasters held no hope of any immediate, general relief. Even colder weather was the unhappy forecast in many areas. And the winter season does not start officially until Dec. 22.

Midwinter scenes were general along the southeast shores of the Great Lakes region, in sections of New York State, and other eastern areas. Huge drifts piled high as snow squalls persisted, adding more now atop the heavy amount left by last week's storms. Cleanup operations were slowed — and halted in some places.

Most of the Southland shivered in the season's coldest weather. Florida temperatures dropped to 15 degrees below seasonal levels.

Farmers and grove owners worked through the night as heavy frost and freezing temperatures hit every section of the state except the Keys. Smudge fires were started to protect tender vegetable crops. Workers sprayed fields with water, dampening the soil so it would hold the heat better.

The unseasonably cold weather threatened the multi-million dollar Florida citrus and vegetable crops, now near their peak of harvest.

It was below freezing in northern sections of Florida, with readings of 26 in Tallahassee and Gainesville. Miami's low was a frosty 40. Key West, in the extreme south, was 55—far below normal.

U.S. Welcomes Soviet Proposal

Russians Thaw on A-Ban Inspections

GENEVA (AP)—The United States welcomed today the black box proposal offered by the Soviet Union as a heartening sign that a nuclear test-ban treaty may be possible.

But American Ambassador Charles C. Stelle told Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin that the Soviet offer does not go nearly far enough to satisfy Western requirements for a foolproof treaty.

"We welcome the Soviet proposal as, hopefully, a forerunner of things to come," Stelle said. "We will look forward to additional Soviet proposals to match the many important moves made by the West in the last year and a half in order to break the impasse over the controls necessary to assure a cessation of underground tests."

Tsarapkin told the 17-nation disarmament conference the Soviet Union would agree to placement on its territory of three of the sealed robot installations to detect underground disturbances.

What aroused Western interest was Tsarapkin's statement that international inspectors could enter the Soviet Union periodically to collect the readings from the boxes. Although this was a long way from the on-site international inspection of suspicious disturbances demanded by the West, it was still the first time in many months the Russians had agreed

India Rejects China's Terms On Conflict

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indians awaited today Red China's reaction to Prime Minister Nehru's rejection of Peking's terms for settling their Himalayan border conflict.

In a broadcast today, the Chinese said they suspected India of "deliberately sabotaging" Peking's one-sided cease-fire "and creating a tense situation on the border."

The broadcast charged that Indian military planes flew reconnaissance missions Monday over captive Tibet and over Chinese-held territory on the eastern end of the disputed border.

Nehru told Indian soldiers in a broadcast Monday night the war might be long and hard but India would emerge victorious by freeing its territory of Chinese invaders.

He said India had welcomed the Chinese proclamation of a cease-fire Nov. 22 after 32 days of warfare.

But the Chinese should withdraw completely from India, Nehru said, instead of making proposals that would leave them in the Ladakh area of northwestern India.

"It appeared these proposals might be a cover for further attacks," Nehru said. "Therefore we have to be fully prepared."

Nehru declared earlier in Parliament: "At present there is no meeting ground between us."

Both New Delhi and Peking kept an eye on Ceylon, where six nonaligned nations are meeting in an effort to find a solution to the conflict. The nations are the United Arab Republic, Ghana, Indonesia, Cambodia, Burma and Ceylon.

Additional Snow Forecast; Cold Wave To Linger

All schools in the Columbiana County system were closed again today as snow drifts rendered rural highways hazardous and barely passable in places Monday night. A total of 5,965 pupils are affected.

Although no appreciable amount of new snow fell last night, drifts fanned by brisk winds clogged township roads, holding traffic at a standstill in many areas.

Fairfield - Waterford, Southern Local and Beaver Local Schools suspended classes today after opening Monday following last week's severe snowstorm. United Local and West Branch Schools were closed Monday. The Retarded Children's School at Elkton also canceled classes.

All schools in the county system and district communities were shut down Friday.

Appeal For Blood Donor Registrants

The holiday season is hurting the Red Cross' attempt to enroll enough blood donors for the scheduled Dec. 20 visit of the Bloodmobile, Louis Raymond, chairman of the North Columbiana County Red Cross blood program, said today.

One hundred and fifty persons are needed to volunteer soon to prepare a sufficient list of volunteers, he pointed out.

Although the goal is 125 pints, it is necessary to enlist 178 prospective donors to guard against later cancellations because of colds and other deferral reasons, he explained.

The Bloodmobile will be stationed at the Elks Home Dec. 20 from 12-noon to 6 p.m.

A year ago at this time the quota was exceeded by two.

Mrs. Barbara Entrikin, president of the Elks Auxiliary, is in charge of arrangements for operation of the Canteen for the donors. William Watkins is head of the Elks lodge which annually sponsors a Bloodmobile visit.

Ohio Leaders Blasted by Young

Dems Party Fight Erupts

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — A simmering Ohio Democratic Party fight growing out of last month's thumping election defeats erupted openly today after a charge by Sen. Stephen M. Young that present state leaders are defeatist and should resign.

Young, with at least tacit White House backing, served notice that neither State Democratic Chairman William Coleman nor Gov. Michael V. DiSalle are going to have anything to do with picking Ohio's delegates to the party's 1964 national convention.

Young said that, as "one of Ohio's two top elected Democratic leaders," he intends to take a firm grip on the party reins.

He said he told that to an official of the state's party headquarters. This occurred, Young said, when the official called and informed him that Coleman had no intention of resigning and that DiSalle, defeated in his bid for re-election, was still state party chief.

"And if they don't believe me," Young said, "just let them call the White House and ask."

Young also sharply criticized state officials' attempts to refill party coffers with a "get well party" in Columbus Jan. 5.

"In the first place," Young said, "that state headquarters needs 'revitalization.'"

"Furthermore," he said, "I want to know where all this money goes that state headquarters raises at these $100 dinners. When I was running in 1958 and Coleman was state chairman, I got zero."

Money raised by the party should be for all candidates, "not just the governor," he said.

Young said Coleman represents leadership that has "led us down the road to defeat in the last two major elections" and added that with DiSalle leaving office, he (Young) and Sen. Frank J. Lausche are the state's two top Democrats.

"I for one intend to exercise that authority," Young said.

Lausche, however, did not warm up at all to Young's demands. While declining to comment on Young's statements, Lausche repeated his earlier defense of Coleman as having done "all that the job required."

Lausche, generally viewed as an independent and apparently not on as close terms with the Kennedy administration as Young, attributed the Republican sweep of top state offices and congressional gains to "a trend in Ohio of a nature against the Democrats."

Lausche said he did not intend to get involved in the leadership dispute.

Another Ohio Democrat, Rep. Charles A. Vanik of Cleveland, indicated he was also staying clear of the squabble, although Young mentioned him prominently in his suggestions for reorganizing the state's party machinery.

"I'm not taking part," Vanik said. "I don't entirely blame Coleman for what happened in the elections."

Young said he was getting strong support for his position from many other prominent state Democrats.

He said his suggestion for naming regional chairmen in the state to help revitalize party machinery struck White House aides as "an excellent one."

Young said he did not talk with President Kennedy before speaking out about the Ohio party situation.

But, he said, he conferred with a number of Kennedy's assistants.

Young said he had no preference for a replacement for Coleman but suggested any one of the county chairmen would "make an excellent state chairman." He also suggested Rep. Robert E. Cook, defeated for re-election in Ohio's 11th District.

He added that Democratic Reps. Michael Kirwan, Wayne Hays, Thomas Ashley, Michael Feighan, Vanik and newly-elected Robert Secrest "would be very persuasive" in helping select regional state party chairmen in their districts.

ATLANTA (AP) — American Farm Bureau Federation convention platform drafters called today for a meat-cleaver attack on the federal budget. They backed this with an offer to seek a big slash in farm aid outlays.

Proposed resolutions before delegates from 49 states attending the big farm organization's annual meeting recommend a cut of 10 per cent in federal spending, which now runs about $100 billion a year.

Farmers would take a cutback of $1 billion, or roughly 25 per cent of the amount Uncle Sam spends annually to support farm prices and provide other aid to farmers.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

Christmas Story

By Lucrece Beale

(Chapter Eight)

THE BIRDS ESCAPE

The trip home was even more enjoyable than the trip to Santa Land for by now Mr. Shnoo was accustomed to his surroundings and was able to relax. Remembering that the Blue-Scaled Scholar liked to be read to, Mr. Shnoo found the book "Three Little Fish and How They Grew" and, taking up where Santa had stopped on Page 819, he read it through to the end.

Then he began to read from a book of poetry called "Sea Voices." He could tell the Blue-Scaled Scholar liked it because he made a gentle humming sound as he sped on his journey.

WHEN THEY ARRIVED on home shores Mr. Shnoo thanked the Scholar for the voyage and promised to bring him some new books for his library. Then he hurried with Honeybun to the zoo. He put the bear in her cage and untied the handkerchief that bound her muzzle.

"How would you like a steak?" he asked. Honeybun clapped her paws and Mr. Shnoo gave her an enormous hunk of meat which she easily polished off with her dinosaur teeth.

Later, in the office, Mr. Shnoo said to Crookshank, "We must keep a sharp watch for visitors carrying fire crackers. Mustn't let this happen again. Also, I must order extra feedings for Honeybun. She'll need building up."

"Waste of money," said Crookshank with a scowl.

"That's not for you to say," said Mr. Shnoo. "It's my zoo."

"Feed them well," Mr. Shnoo said to their keeper.

"Not entirely until you pay me my last pieces of gold," retorted Crookshank.

"YOU'LL HAVE YOUR gold by Christmas eve," said Mr. Shnoo. He hurried away, not only to escape Crookshank but because he had to inspect the zoo. He wanted to make sure everything was in order for the Queen's visit which surely would be coming any day now.

Because he had heard that the Queen was especially interested in birds he went first to the bird cages. It was winter and most of the brightly-plumaged birds were kept in warmly heated, glass-enclosed cages. Very few were hardy enough to be allowed in the outdoor cages.

"Keep them warm," said Mr. Shnoo to the bird keeper. "Yes, indeed," nodded the keeper. "I keep it like a tropical forest in here."

MR. SHNOO went on to the aquarium, the reptile house and the lion cages. He ended up at the reindeer enclosure where the deer were calmly grazing, giving no hint that they knew how to fly. "Feed them well," Mr. Shnoo said to their keeper. "They have a big night coming."

"Yes, sir!" said the keeper though little he knew of the reindeer's secret.

Mr. Shnoo's heart was filled with happiness. He felt he was the most fortunate man alive to have such a zoo.

"And now that Honeybun is well our troubles are over," he thought as he dropped off to sleep that night.

BUT ALAS! His troubles were only begun for he was hardly out of bed the next morning when the bird keeper was banging on his door.

"Sir! An awful thing has happened! I can't think how it came about!"

Mr. Shnoo took the fellow by the shoulders. "What is it? Tell me!"

"The birds!" sobbed the keeper. "They've flown away!"

"What?"

The keeper nodded. "One of the glass windows was broken and they all flew out. Oh, how could it have happened? The glass was there last night!"

Mr. Shnoo threw on his coat. "We must find them quickly," he cried. "They'll freeze to death!"

With the keeper at his heels he dashed from the house.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Eat Roughage According to Need

If you have true constipation you may need relief not because constipation causes headache, sluggishness, or any other general symptoms, as was once believed, but because it makes it difficult or painful for you to pass your stool.

You may choose to use a small enema. If so it is best not to use more than one cupful (8 ounces) of plain warm water. Some people can learn to give such an enema to themselves. All that is needed is a colon tube and a funnel rather than the clumsy enema bag. The important part of this treatment is to hold the enema after the tube has been removed for at least five minutes.

If it is passed immediately after it is introduced, it may be returned without emptying the rectum.

On the other hand, too large an enema will empty part of the colon as well and, like a laxative, bring away material not yet due for evacuation.

PLAIN GLYCERIN suppositories can be bought in infant or adult sizes. They must be kept in a cool place. They are easy to introduce into the rectum and should be held there for at least 12 minutes. With proper regulation of the diet, it should be necessary to use an enema or suppository only very rarely. Dependency on either of these measures as a routine is to be avoided.

This brings us to the matter of roughage, the indigestible cellulose found in fruit and vegetables. It is well to remember that these foods should not be eaten according to your appetite but according to your personal need. The amount you need you must learn for yourself. Some persons can eat eight or nine helpings of fruit and vegetables daily. For others, one skimpy helping in 24 hours may be too much.

IN GENERAL, ounce for ounce, a helping of raw fruit or vegetable has the natural laxative effect of two helpings of cooked foods. Thus one raw apple equals roughly two helpings of apple sauce. Remember too that a cupful of strained orange juice contains little if any roughage. For its natural laxative effect you must peel and eat the orange.

Having determined how much vegetable and fruit you need daily in order to have a firm bowel movement, it is important to take as early as possible the same amount of roughage every day. Only in this way can you establish regular bowel habits.

If you find the stools becoming too hard you must make a small increase in the amount of roughage in your diet, not just for today but for every day. If the stools are a little loose you must cut the amount of roughage.

IT IS COMMON believed that certain foods such as milk, cheese, and toast are constipating and that they should be avoided if you are bothered with constipation. This is a fallacy that has caused many people to limit their selection of foods unnecessarily.

What I have said about constipation sounds so simple, many persons probably will not believe it. But it has been shown to work for hundreds of patients I have known.

Future of Wheat Controls

When the issue of wheat controls was voted on in 1962, it was a foregone conclusion that wheat farmers would muster the required 66.7 per cent majority.

Farmers invariably have voted to accept government controls by the necessary two-third margin. The wheat vote in 1962 would be no exception.

Yet the vote was only 68.4 per cent in favor of wheat controls this year. With a squeaker like this in the record, a political party would put on extra pressure the next time around.

That may be what the American Farm Bureau Federation intends to do. Its convention in Atlanta this week could prove historic. The bureau was critical of the compromise farm bill passed this year, especially of the wheat program in the bill.

IF THE FARM BUREAU puts its prestige behind a national program to persuade farmers to vote down wheat controls next summer, this basic commodity would go back to a free enterprise basis.

In a speech last month in North Dakota

the assistant director of the bureau's commodity division, Dr. Warren Collins, said agriculture had to choose between farming by government proclamation and returning to free enterprise.

This is opposed to the view of both the National Grange and the National Farmers Union, though the latter has shown an interest in voluntary programs for commodities other than wheat.

But the significance lies in what ominous squeaker on wheat controls last summer. Apparently wheat farmers are losing some of their enthusiasm for controls. The fact is they never had a great deal of enthusiasm, as far as voting was concerned.

THE FARM BUREAU tried to change the law in 1962 to require at least one-third of all wheat farmers to vote as well as two-thirds of those voting to vote yes before wheat controls could be continued.

Defeat for the wheat control proposal next year would mean a sharp turning away from the supply-management principle off federal farm control.

Adenauer's Day In the Sun

Announcement of the impending retirement of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer came as no surprise to West German political leaders or, in fact, to the entire Western World.

Mr. Adenauer has been under pressure for some time from his own Christian Democratic party to relinquish the reins in favor of a younger man.

THE WEST GERMAN chancellor has lost considerable political strength in the last two years and has been under heavy fire for the part his defense minister, Franz Josef Strauss, played in the recent crackdown on the news magazine Der Spiegel.

Nearing 87, Mr. Adenauer has shown unmistakable signs of losing some of the grip he has held on West Germans since he took over the chancellorship 13 years ago. While he appears to have retained much of the respect that has been his in world affairs, internal troubles have continued to mount to the point of open dissatisfaction.

WHILE THE CHANCELLOR undoubtedly has reached the point where retirement would be in the best interests of West Germany, the free world should not lose sight of his great contributions in the battle to keep communism at arm's length.

He has helped to build West Germany into a vital link in NATO, and the bond of friendly relationship he has forged with President DeGaulle of France has eliminated one of the traditional perils to a united and defensible Western Europe.

While the shadows on his illustrious career are lengthening, his day in the sun reflected brightly over the Free World.

Both a Boon And a Hazard

Many of the things civilization has created for its comfort proves hazardous at times, too.

The smokestack and the gasoline engine, which powers vehicles to transport man and his goods, can be lethal in a fog such as London has occasionally.

The death toll of more than 100 during the recent heavy fog in Britain's huge capital city is frightening. More than 1,000, virtually as to hospitals for treatment. Thousands of others were affected less critically.

Norfolk, gasoline engine exhaust fumes and coal smoke are dissipated in the air and prove harmless. When a heavy fog closes down to the ground, however, there is no escape for the fumes. They remain cloistered in the fog and are breathed into a crowded population's lungs.

Los Angeles, troubled for many years by similar "smog" perils, is trying to do something about it. Some day London will find a solution to its problem.

Meanwhile, there seems to be nothing left for Londoners to do but suffer through.

Noble Gesture

Plans of the Columbiana County Commission on Aging to help elderly people in their own homes is winning the support of individuals and organizations in various communities.

Groundwork is being laid for the "homemaker" program which it is hoped will start in the spring, providing the little, helpful services that mean so much to an elderly person who no longer can get outdoors. Ministers and physicians have endorsed the program as spiritual and therapeutic.

When the program begins, "homemaker" units will function within 10 miles of their own division point, thereby providing a more systematic operation. Mrs. Doris Stiver, commission head; Miss Katherine Gibson, executive secretary; Mrs. Carl McConnor, chairman, and their "good samaritan" assistants are to be commended for their noble undertaking.

Paying the Piper

By Truman Twill

In show business performers lie about their age until so much has accumulated that it becomes a distinction. Then they boast about it.

The illusionists in this case are the realists. They know the world has no sympathy for the old bull walrus, or his old wife either—that it's natural law for youngsters to push out the oldsters to make things easier for the rising generation.

That's the way it was done in the generation ahead. It will be done the same way in the generation to come.

The West Germans, or rather some of their politicians, are pushing out Konrad Adenauer, who will be 87 next month. They are doing it in the same spirit of making way for newcomers as the British showed when they threw out Winston Churchill.

The French politician tried to throw out Charles de Gaulle recently on the same grounds but was unsuccessful. No one can be sure what would have happened here in 1960 if the politicians hadn't bulled through a two-term limit for presidents, but there would have been an effort to topple Dwight Eisenhower on the basis of his age too.

But don't get the wrong idea.

This is the way it should be. The world's work should be done by the young, who also should make the main decisions. They alone are ignorant enough to do this without cracking up, under pressure. They don't know enough to be afraid of being wrong.

Besides, oldsters always end up in a familiar rut, which isn't always a bad idea but is murder if their rut isn't going in the right direction. Their trouble is that being in the rut they don't care much which direction it's going. What counts most for an oldster is the rut itself and the security thereof.

What was good enough for them is good enough for themselves now that they are grandfathers; it works like that. Like Chancellor Adenauer, who apparently is as smart as he ever was. But he's no smarter than he ever was, and the West German politicians apparently figure it's time to try some ideas that haven't been tried before.

This is not naturally an oldsters' world, despite their skillful efforts to stay in the saddle until they've worn out the horse. Except for a few activities like law, which puts a premium on age; youngsters have the edge.

They have more spring in their legs and more bounce to the ounce. They have limber imaginations and the joie de vivre that keeps them coming back or more long after the oldsters have heaved a sigh and turned in for the night.

There's only one catch in it.

When the oldsters had the responsibility, they aimed to take care of the young, who were frequently forbidden to take care of themselves. The oldsters did this out of a sense of responsibility to the rising generation.

It's now the responsibility of the young to take care of the old.

Their point of view on this is not clear yet, but there have been ominous rumblings of discontent. These should be stifled.

If the whippersnappers make the gaffers sore, there will be an upheaval that will make the kids think the old man has gone berserk—and that would be about the size of it. If the upstarts want to run the show, they'll have to pay the piper.

'Equal Rights for All' Doesn't Apply to Taxes

By DAVID LAWRENCE

"Equal rights for all" probably would get the highest percentage of public approval ever recorded in any Gallup Poll because theoretically everybody is for the principle.

But, actually, nobody connected with government today really believes in the idea when dealing with the tax life of the nation.

If, for instance, you are efficient, resourceful and enterprising, you pay considerably more taxes than if you are incompetent, inefficient and lazy.

If you give away your money when you are still living, you can avoid heavy taxes that otherwise your estate would have to pay when you die.

If you entertain someone at lunch who may buy goods or services from you, a deduction from taxes is authorized, but if you take a man out to lunch who might be able to help you locate a job, or even give you one, this isn't a business expense at all in the eyes of present-day law.

If you travel for your company on business, the company is entitled to tax deductions for your expenses, but if you travel every day 50 miles to and from your home in the suburbs and your office in the city, you do this at your own expense and get no tax deductions for it.

Nobody is justified in cheating the government by violating the tax laws, but there's a difference between evasion and avoidance. You can avoid taxes legally but you can't evade them legally.

IT MIGHT be thought that equality can be achieved merely by assuming that everybody is honest and by assuming, too, that the Treasury Department also is always honest when it writes tax regulations interpreting the law — though the courts for years have been struggling to find out when a regulation is really a fair interpretation of what Congress wrote into law.

But what is a fair tax law? Books galore have been written on the subject and many legislators have conscientiously struggled with the dilemma for decades. It may come as a surprise to the younger generation of today but before 1913 it wasn't constitutional to levy any federal income tax at all. Yet the nation made wonderful strides in the 137 years between 1776 and 1913. Immediately it will be argued that the population wasn't as big prior to 50 years ago as it is today, but it is hard to concede that unfairness becomes logical as the quantity of population grows. It's like saying the Constitution or the Ten Commandments are outmoded today and that equity and morality vanish when a nation gets to be over 100 million in population.

Yet the present system of taxation — federal, state and city — is inequitable and unfair to many people, and everyone who knows taxation concedes it.

"Equal rights for all" seems to disappear when you consider that, by living in one state, you avoid certain taxes which you would have to pay in another.

DISCRIMINATION is the accusation flung these days at any violation of equal rights, as in housing or in the use of public facilities. Much is heard about the equal protection of the law, but somehow there is no equal protection when taxes are levied.

The Constitution gives the Congress power to levy taxes, but it is doubtful whether a convincing argument can be made that the other provisions of the Constitution — including the one about due process of law have been at any time repealed just to allow taxes to be imposed arbitrarily and disproportionately.

Another discrimination hardly ever discussed in the perspective of constitutional rights is the exemption from certain federal taxes enjoyed by citizens who own the bonds and notes of states and cities. Yet the federal government has to raise tax money from everybody to defend the military security of those same states against foreign enemies. Also, the income from interest on federal bonds is not exempt from taxation by the U.S. Treasury.

Tax reform is long overdue but the chances are it will continue to go untouched except by the politically minded who come forward with schemes for flagrant discrimination.

If by chance all exemptions, for example, were removed and taxes were levied not on incomes but as an assessment measuring the benefits received by the citizen and his family from the federal government everybody would have to pay something for himself and family. A scale of levies would cover government expenses without putting too much of a burden on anyone. A plan like this would come closer to equal taxes for all than any scheme used thus far.

THERE ISN'T a chance in the world that any equitable plan will ever be adopted because the only rule followed nowadays is plainly political. It can be summarized thus: Low taxes for more people and higher taxes for the enterprising and talented few. The majority do not create jobs or create sources of wealth. It is the minority who invents new methods and have the initiative to keep the economy going. They are compelled to be content, however, with whatever residue the government may choose to allocate to them from their earnings.

This system could anesthetize the economy some day but the politicians aren't as yet worried about that contingency so long as "deficit spending" is considered a virtue and "equal rights for all" is accepted as popular in everything else but taxation.

History Today

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 11th, the 345th day of 1962. There are 20 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1936, King George VI ascended the throne of England when his brother, Edward VIII abdicated to marry an American divorcee, Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson.

On this day: In 1488, the earliest known mention of church pews was made in a will signed by John Roche of London.

In 1719, the first display of the Aurora Borealis — or Northern Lights—recorded in America was seen in New England.

In 1816, Indiana was admitted to the Union as the 19th state.

In 1941, Germany and Italy declared war on the United States.

In 1954, the U. S. aircraft carrier Forrestal was christened.

Today's birthdays: Former Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton is 53. Pro football executive George Sauer is 52.

Thought for today: Speech was given to the ordinary sort of men whereby to communicate their mind; but to wise men, whereby to conceal it —Robert South.

Matter of Fact

If you want your canary to sing like a nightingale, you will have a willing student. The natural song of a canary is loud and clear and they readily imitate other birds. In Germany phonograph records of the nightingale's song have been used to train canaries to sing almost like nightingales. The next generation of canaries will learn the new song easily from their fathers.

"Right This Way, Sir!"

Averting Another Steel 'Crisis'

By VICTOR RIESEL

PITTSBURGH Crises have a pleasant habit of slipping out of the big black headlines until the next time. Many folks forget that just eight months ago it was the "Battle of Steel" which kept the lights and tempers burning most of the night in the White House.

Some of those who have not forgotten and who don't want a next time, come frequently to a suite of offices in the Frick building at Pittsburgh. These are the headquarters of something called the Human Relations Committee.

This Human Relations Committee is made up of "men of steel"—leaders of the United Steelworkers and the steel corporations.

THEY WANT to head off a new crisis, which could come this summer. So the Human Relations group is meeting and working on the sensitive problems now, some six months before the union reopens its famous contract with a set of new demands.

What do they—and their many subcommittees—discuss? Should there be steelworkers on overtime while others are laid off? Should the steel companies "contract out" their construction and other such work while steel hands are jobless? Also extending vacations, incentives.

This summer the union can ask for more money, higher pensions increased welfare and other types of insurance.

There is no doubt that such demands would increase costs. But can the industry stand it? Can the union stand it? Increased costs might mean more layoffs, and the union membership has come down to some 900,000 from 1.21 million in the last seven years.

There's another problem. Both sides know it well. How can American industry meet foreign competition by increasing costs?

I researched some vital statistics in Europe this summer. In Germany I found that the steel workers in the smoky Ruhr earn about $44 for a 44-hour week—or about four marks an hour, meaning one dollar.

THE AMERICAN Iron and Steel Institute reported the other day that "the payroll cost per hour" for a U.S. steel worker is $3.66. For a 40-hour week this comes to $146.40. I don't include the fringe costs either here or in Germany, just the cash cost.

That's just about $100 a week difference.

Our steel workers are mighty skilled. They whip out fine metal. But so do the Germans. And the Japanese. And the British. They're tough competitors.

But the problem's not steel's alone. Look at the over-all average wage for Britain. The latest labor ministry report from London has the average weekly manufacturing wage at $43.79.

The other day I phoned the office of Secretary of Labor Wilard Wirtz for the average U.S. weekly industrial wage. Ours was $97.75 for August of this year. That's more than a $50 a-week difference. Without fringes.

LOOK AT the auto business. The British Labor Ministry reports the average weekly wage for "motor vehicle workers" at $55.97. Match this with the U.S. Labor Department's figure of $127.20 for August '62. Roughly that's better than a $70-a-week difference.

British "engineers", described to me as comparable to our plant technicians, earned an average of $45.30 a week in November.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Is it possible that men go through the menopause as women do?

My husband is 50. We have four grown children and seven grandchildren. Our lovely home is paid for, we have no financial worries and this should be, as the pet says, "time time of life for which the first was made."

About two years ago my husband began to get cranky and irritable. He found fault with my cooking, fussed about the way his shirts looked, complained that my hair-do wasn't right. Nothing suited him.

During the presidential elections he fought with everyone. He didn't like Kennedy or Nixon and finally voted for his own write-in candidate—Hoot Gibson.

These last few months he has become sullen and withdrawn. He has lost interest in poker, bowling and lodge work. His personality is totally different from what it was three years ago. Can it be the male menopause?—MRS. L. K.

Dear Mrs. L. K.: Men do not experience menopause in the same sense that women do. The personality change you describe sometimes occurs in men when they reach their mid-40s or early 50s, which is the corresponding age for "the change" in women.

Your husband should have a complete physical checkup. If nothing is organically wrong, the physician probably will recommend a psychiatrist.

Faithful Carrier Boy

Dear Ann: Our son delivers papers and takes his job seriously. The problem I am writing about is the lack of consideration shown by some of his customers.

Ben's territory includes many apartment buildings. People move out left and right, leaving no forwarding address, and Ben gets stuck with the bill. Maybe they don't realize it's the carrier boy who is left holding the bag.

Then there are always folks who are slow pay and the boy has to go back two and three times to get his money. This isn't fair. Ben has had to travel many extra miles, doubling back for collections—in all kinds of weather.

I wish you'd remind people, Ann, that the carrier boy is trying to be a good little businessman and he deserves a break. Thank you—D.L.

Dear D. L.: The carrier boys are industrious youngsters who should be rewarded for their efforts, not exploited because of their youth. And they are very important young men in MY life. I couldn't get this column, to many of you without them, so please treat 'em good, folks.

Gossipy Widow

Dear Ann: My wife has a girlhood friend who lost her husband six months ago. This woman is a gossip and a troublemaker. I find her presence in our home a serious irritant. Since she has been widowed, she parks herself here for dinner at least twice a week.

Our dinner hour used to be spent in family discussion. No more. This clattertrap monopolizes every conversation with her petty gossip. I don't like our children to hear this drive. She has no judgment whatever and will say anything that comes to her mind.

I've told my wife how I feel but she insists the woman is lonely and needs the support of her friends. I admire my wife's generosity, but this woman's frequent presence in our home is damaging our family life.

Am I hard hearted? I need your opinion.—AGAINST GOSSIPY MONGERING.

Dear Against: If your wife wants to be a good kid let her listen to the mud slinging during the daytime. The rest of the family ought not be subjected to it.

Insist that the dinner invitations be cut way back—like once a month. Your wife is overdoing the Good Samaritan bit at the expense of her family.

Adenauer Is Getting Same 'Shove' Churchill Received

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer is getting the same shove British Prime Minister Churchill got seven years ago. Out. The reason is the same: Too old.

None of the other old-timers who have been dominating world events in the 20th Century's middle years shows any signs of quitting voluntarily. None, however, is in his 80s, like Churchill and Adenauer.

In 1955, when Churchill was 81, some of the men closest to him told him he was too old to head the government any longer. They urged him to quit for the good of the country. He didn't want to go.

After Stalin's death in 1953 he dreamed of a summit meeting with the Russians. If there had been any change in the Kremlin, he thought, a long peace for Europe might be worked out. Pressure persisted. He quit April 1, 1955.

Then, just a few months later, there was a summit conference with his successor, Anthony Eden, taking part. Nothing much came of it. Churchill is 88 now.

Adenauer will be 87 in January. He's been the only chancellor West Germany has had since it was established in 1949. West Germany, like Britain when Churchill left, is enjoying its greatest prosperity.

In those 13 years Adenauer not only led West Germany into close alliance with its enemies of two world wars — the United States, Britain, France — but into a democratic society away from its ancient authoritarianism.

Like Churchill, Adenauer has been reluctant to go. Like Churchill, he still feels he has unfinished business. In his case it's tighter relations with France and cementing the Common Market, of which Germany is a part.

If there ever is a United States of Europe it will probably spring from those beginnings. Thus Adenauer has been a tremendous force.

Yet, in recent years the feeling has grown in Germany that anti-authoritarian Adenauer has himself become increasingly authoritarian. This feeling piled up and burst through in the German elections of September 1961.

His Christian Democratic Party failed to win a majority in Parliament. He had to seek the support of the Free Democrats, which meant a coalition government, to get himself chosen chancellor once more.

There was a price tag on this. The Free Democrats were willing to put up with him a while longer but not indefinitely. On Nov. 8, 1961 he gave a guarantee he would retire before his term ended in 1965.

But he didn't say exactly when. This became a sore point. The Free Democrats have just put the squeeze on him again. He let it be announced last Friday he'd leave in the fall of 1963.

His successor is expected to be Dr. Ludwig Erhard, minister of economics. He's expected to concentrate more on domestic problems, leaving the foreign ones to others.

Right here there's a difference between Britain without Churchill and Germany without Adenauer. Britain has had a long tradition of democracy and a tremendous sense of continuity in its leadership.

Churchill's going meant no basic changes in Britain. But Germany has had a democratic system only 13 years and, before that, a long history of authoritarianism, whether under the Nazis or an emperor.

Since West Germany's democratic roots, therefore, are recent, they are not so sure as Britain's. While Germany under Adenauer was both a friend and an ally, it may not remain that way under those coming after him.

PROMOTED—Alexander Shelepin, 44, was named chairman of the Committee of the State Party Control and also promoted to vice premier of the Soviet Union. Shelepin until recently was head of the Soviet secret police.

The Passing Scene:

Early Days of Opera House Recalled

By JAMES MURPHY

The history of Salem's theatres spans more than 100 years of entertainment, from an anti-slavery presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" to the modern drive-in theatre.

Although the old Town Hall witnessed a presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in 1850 before the building was even finished, the more usual fare on the town hall program was anti-slavery lectures or musical performances by such local talent as "The Harmonia Society of Salem" which presented three concerts in 1859.

THEN IN 1861 Alexander Pow, who had just moved to Salem from New Albany, began building an impressive, three-story structure at the corner of Main Street and Broadway.

Dedicated on Jan. 5, 1863, the first floor was occupied by Robert Pow's jewelry shop and the entire third floor consisted of a concert hall.

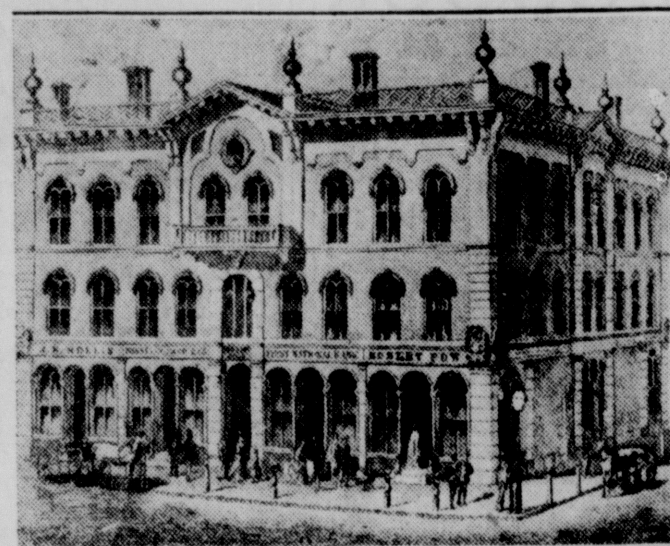

A description of Pow's Hall, as it was called in the summer of 1862, says that "the walls and ceiling were tastefully frescoed and otherwise ornamented and the hall was comfortably seated with settees."

SUCH FAMOUS PEOPLE as Artemus Ward and Susan B. Anthony appeared here, Ward giving his popular lecture on "Sixty Minutes in Africa."

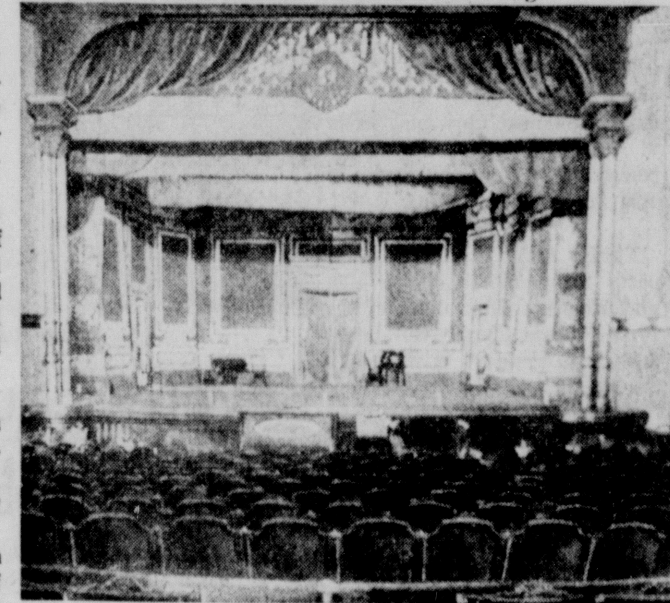

In that humorous talk, which made him famous, Ward spoke of every topic imaginable, except Africa.

Concert Hall stood until 1930 when it was torn down to make way for the new First National bank building.

THE ELEGANCE OF Concert Hall was deemed second rate after the Grand Opera House was built on East State St. Erected in 1889 by Joseph Greiner and Ira Brainard, just five years after the Greiner-Brainard (now the Metzgar) hotel opened, the Grand Opera House was leased to Atchison and Allen of New York City.

Concert Hall As It Looked 100 Years Ago

Many Performed On This Stage At Opera House

was a one night stand during the 1893-94 season, advertised as "the funniest thing of its kind, and a sure cure for dyspepsia in its most virulent form."

Oddly enough, this particular play did not have a villain. It did manage to include "The Funny White Horse and Its Ludicrous Contortions and Lively Capers" as well as "The Novel Ship Scene, Its Fatal Collapse In Mid-Ocean (Received with tumultuous applause)."

AFTER THE TURN OF the century the Grand Opera House became the Grand Theatre, with the advent of the motion picture machine. And so it continued, with evening performances and Saturday matinees, until about five years ago when it finally closed its doors.

THE SALEM AMUSEMENT Corp., begun in 1931 by Nathaniel I. and Harry L. Walken, Washington, Pa., brothers, were the last owners of the Grand Theatre.

Nat now operates the State Theatre, the city's sole active movie house. He and his brother bought the theatre, which was erected in the early 1920's, from C. V. Rakestraw, who had also operated the Grand before 1931.

Rakestraw, who now lives in Miami, Fla., has been trying to sell the Grand theater site for another business. It and the adjacent downtown lot were recently surveyed as a possible site for a motel and restaurant.

Mrs. Robert F. Sabo

Beverly Caudill Becomes Bride of Robert Sabo

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Sabo are at home at 631 E. 9th St., following their marriage Nov. 24 in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

Miss Beverly Ann Caudill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Caudill of 842 Franklin Ave., and Robert F. Sabo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sabo of 1788 Fairview Court, were married in a 3:30 p.m. double ring ceremony by Rev. R. D. Freseman.

Miss Bonnie Minth played traditional bridal melodies as the bride was escorted by her father to an altar decorated with white flowers and palms and lighted by cathedral candelabra.

The bride's gown was of white antique brocade with shallow scooped-neck and elbow-length slightly flared sleeves. The bell shaped skirt swept to a full bustle back accented with a self bow and ending with a chapel train. Her elbow-length veil of illusion was caught to a bride's crown of pearlized orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias.

The bride chose her sisters as her attendants. Mrs. William Engel of Philadelphia was matron of honor in a floor-length gown of light blue satin. Wanda Caudill was junior bridesmaid and wore a light blue velvet gown.

Ronald Sabo served his brother as best man, and John Fitch of Salem and Lawrence Anderson of Akron ushered.

Following the ceremony a reception for 200 guests was held at the CIO Hall on Prospect St.

A three-tier traditional bridal pound cake and white chrysanthemums graced the white covered bride's table.

Following the reception, the couple left for a honeymoon through New York State for which the bride wore a pale blue wool dress and the corsage from her bouquet.

A graduate of Salem High School, Mrs. Sabo is a bookkeeper employed by the First National Bank.

Mr. Sabo is a graduate of Salem High School and Mount Union College. He is employed as health physicist by the Babcock and Wilcox Research Center at Alliance.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Gals: First let me tell you how much I love you.

I think you are the sweetest things in the world. I love your sweet letters, listening to your problems, reading your hints . . . and the simple hints are the ones we love the most.

We try them, put them together and come up with pretty good solutions sometimes.

We have put some hints together today, tried the finished product and found it great. It's about cleaning ovens! Here 'tis:

We were bombarded with compliments from women who write that spraying their ovens with ammonia was the greatest. Next came the love letters to the woman who wrote about putting a bath towel in her oven and saturating it with ammonia.

Then a reader wrote to PLUG up the vents in the oven with paper towels to keep the vapors of the ammonia in.

THOSE LETTERS were so wonderful that we have put all of the suggestions together and believe we have come up with the best yet. (Who knows what tomorrow will bring?)

To date: HEAT your oven Turn on the heat until it reaches 200 degrees. Turn it OFF.

Let it cool until it is warm enough so that you can touch it with your hands and not get burned! There must be a reason for this but all we can figure out is that heat (when the porcelain inside is warm) produces faster and better cleaning by far.

Now pull out the bottom rack in the oven. Get a bath towel. (I used an old one but it makes no difference) and wet it with warm water. Wring it out well.

(Don't ask me what this does but we cleaned five ovens and found it works far better than a dry towel. Think it prevents the ammonia from soaking into the towel so quickly.)

Lay the damp towel on the bottom wire rack in your oven. Wet as many wash rags as you will need to plug up all vent holes in your oven. If you smell ammonia fumes getting strong . . . perhaps you missed an oven vent somewhere! (We did on one oven. It had three vents.)

Put wet wash rags over each vent hole. Dampness in the rags keeps the fumes in the oven and kitchen. But be sure to open the kitchen windows for your ventilation.

Now . . . pour ammonia over this wet towel in your oven. We used anywhere from one to two cups. The amount depends on how dirty the oven is, or how deep the carbon (the black and brown stuff on your oven walls and racks) appears.

CLOSE THE OVEN door and forget it for a few hours. Because the oven is still warm, we found that the vapors from the ammonia worked faster!

Soon all odors will leave. When odor evaporates, then start operation number two! But . . . let me tell you the easiest way I have found.

Before you do anything . . . remove that towel and one oven rack. Put the rack in your kitchen sink and lay the towel on top of it. Turn your water faucet over the towel until it soaks it well. Then slightly wring out the towel.

We found it better not to use a soap-filled pad. We rinsed the soap out of the soap-filled pads under hot water to remove most of the soap because we ran out of plain steel wool. Remember that the oven sides are still warm!

If you have any great build-up of carbon, take the pad and gently rub. It comes off like magic! Scrub the wire racks which are now in your kitchen sink. Use the same piece of steel wool if the carbon is embedded.

And ladies, that glass door on some ovens came clean as a whistle! No effort at all. We just used a sponge dipped in a little water to which some vinegar had been added. Complete magic. Then we cleaned the inside of the oven with this same vinegar water. Sure pretty.

FOR THOSE who have very heavily coated racks (carbon again) we did find a better way to clean them. Fill your wash tub some time when its not in use if you don't have a sink big enough to cover your complete rack with VERY hot water.

Add about a cup or so of detergent. We used the kind we wash clothes in. Plunge the racks under the water and leave overnight. The water. The rest can be wiped off with a vegetable brush. Terrific.

Get out of that chair! Clean that oven today. Oh, it's beautiful next time. Use foil when you bake things. Haste makes waste. Prevention (whether in health and a pound of cure or two hours and umpteen fingernails) is calories and time saved.

Happy oven cleaning Love,

A Want Ad Can find it for you!

Crestview Science Club

A debate on the topic, "Is the theological explanation of creation fact or fallacy as compared with the scientific theory of evolution?" opened a recent meeting of the Crestview Science Club.

Participating in the debate were Dennis Spait, Carolyn Fitzsimons, Mary Lou Colella, Ellen Carter, Cheryl Bartholomew, Gary Wilhelm, Lynn Hawkins and Bonnie Bowers. Ronnie Detrow was moderator.

Darryl Jones, chairman of the field trip committee, suggested that members attend the National Space Science Fair in Cleveland.

Eighteen members were present.

Mrs. David E. Shafer

Janet Williams Wed To David E. Shafer

Rev. Bruce Milligan officiated at the wedding Monday at 2:30 p.m. uniting in marriage Miss Janet Louise Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Williams of RD 3, Stewart Road, Salem, and David Edgell Shafer, son of Mrs. E. P. Shafer of 724 25th St., N.W., Canton, in the presence of the immediate families.

Miss Anna Cook presided at the organ as the bride was escorted by her father to an altar graced by vases of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her parents the bride wore a gown of white silk taffeta with wide-sleeved embroidered neckline embellished with pearls, full length fitted sleeves and a widely flared skirt ending in a chapel train. Her fingertip length veil of silk illusion was held to a Swedish crown of crystals, and she carried a Bible arrangement of white Fuji mums and miniature ivy.

Wearing a gown of aqua satin faced organza with fitted midriff and full skirt, Miss Lenore Christen of Beloit was maid of honor. Judy Williams, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a dress matching that of Miss Christen. Both attendants complemented their dresses with matching circle bands with nose veils and carried Colonial nosegays of yellow pompons showered with satin streamers.

Louis Bushfield of Toronto was best man for Mr. Shafer and Robert Conrad ushered.

A gown of green lace was worn by the mother of the bride and Mrs. Shafer's dress was turquoise color. Both had corsages of white Shasta pompons.

A tiered wedding cake graced the bridal table at the reception at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The all white table was lighted with white tapers in crystal holders.

A graduate of Salem High School, the bride attended Mount Union College and is employed by the Eljer Company.

Mr. Shafer graduated from Canton Lehman High School and Kent State University and is employed by Radio Station WCLV, Cleveland.

The couple will live at 672 N. Lincoln Ave.

Beaver Board Sets Dates, Accepts 20.7-Mill Tax Rate

ROGERS — Graduation dates were chosen and other routine business matters were transacted when the Beaver Local Board of Education met at Beaver Local Public School Monday.

Baccalaureate services will be May 26 at the high school and Commencement exercises will be conducted May 29.

Payment of various certificates amounting to $27,000 on the building project was approved.

Amounts and rates as established by the budget commission for the school district for 1962, with a tax rate of 20.7 mills for the village at a valuation of $15,142,096 were accepted.

Old tax rate was 25 mills, with a valuation of $11,839,266. The rate was cut back 4.3 mills to produce the same amount of money that it would have produced on the old valuation, stated County Auditor Kenneth Bell.

A course of study, "Democracy versus Communism," was presented to the board by Dr. George Van Horne, executive head of the school district which, if approved, will become part of the senior problems of democracy course.

The program, part of a county system under consideration, will be acted upon at the next meeting.

Approval was given to the application of Howard E. Johnson to attend the School for the Handicapped in Youngstown.

THE BOARD REAFFIRMED its previous policy relating to all school personnel that there will be no time off without pay for personal business.

Use of the high school music room Dec. 15 for a coin auction to Mrs. John J. Holt of Calcutta was approved.

In other business, the board approved the boiler and machinery insurance policy held by the William T. McNutt agency of East Liverpool.

Agreements with the Ohio Power Company for caution lights to be installed at Calcutta and West Point elementary school were approved and signed.

Also approved were the making of application to the North Central Association of Schools by the high school, the application for a bus driving certificate by Leslie Beagle and various transfers of funds within the general fund to complete the year's business.

Harry Greenwood, clerk-treasurer received permission to attend the seventh annual workshop of the Ohio Association of School Business Officials Feb. 6-8 in Columbus.

advised the establishment of a permanent committee to examine the program's content and administration and recommend changes. A White House source said formation of the committee followed along the lines of Hamilton's suggestion.

To succeed Hamilton, Kennedy named Budget Director David E. Bell.

Named with Clay to serve on the committee are former defense secretary Robert A. Lovett; AFL-CIO President George Meany; Harvard economist Edward S. Mason; Eugene Black, retiring president of the World Bank; Robert A. Anderson, secretary of the Treasury in the Eisenhower administration; L. F. McCollum, president of Continental Oil; Herman Phleger, San Francisco lawyer and former State Department legal adviser, and Clifford Hardin, chancellor of the University of Nebraska.

White House officials said the members, who will serve without pay, will convene in January.

There were no reports of damage to the oil fields at Seria. The rebels had threatened to sabotage them if they were attacked.

Kuala Belait, another oil field seven miles to the west, was still believed to be in rebel hands. Shell's administrative center is there. A flight over the area showed no damage, and smoke curled peacefully from one industrial plant.

The total killed in the four-day rebellion is believed to be more than 40, including 26 rebels.

Lisbon Kiwanians Will View Film

LISBON — A film on "Telstar" will be shown Thursday noon at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Daughters of America Lodge Rooms.

The film was secured from the American Telephone and Telegraph Company by Atty. George Lafferty, program chairman.

CRIME RATE INCREASES CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati seems to be headed for its worst major crime year since 1937.

This was the gloomy forecast Monday by Martin P. Geygan, assistant superintendent of police records, as he reported an increase in all types of major crime in November. He said the crime rate for the first 11 months this year has been 14.6 per cent greater than in 1961.

Deaths Funerals

Cecil W. Baxter

Cecil William Baxter, 73, of 926 N. Ellsworth Ave., died of a cerebral hemorrhage at 6:45 p. m. Monday in Salem City Hospital following one week's illness. He had been in failing health for 18 months.

Born in Mechanicstown Dec. 27, 1888, the son of Samuel J. and Samantha Huston Baxter, he had been a resident of Salem for 42 years, coming from Minerva. A former employee of the Deming plant, he retired in 1958. He was a member of the First Methodist Church.

Survivors are his wife, Olive M. Goodballet Baxter, whom he married Aug. 20, 1910; one daughter, Mrs. Ward F. Eckstein of Salem; one son, James E. Baxter of Salem; one sister, Mrs. Fred Labus of Dover; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. One daughter, Mrs. Pauline Baughman, preceded him in death.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home, with Rev. William S. Longworth officiating. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

Miss Ida Gleckler

COLUMBIANA — Miss Ida Gleckler, 81, died of complications at 6:45 p. m. Monday at the Columbiana County Home where she had been a resident for 12 years.

Born in Beaver Township Nov. 25, 1881, she was the daughter of Joseph and Sarah Snyder Gleckler, was a former Columbiana resident and a member of the Jerusalem Lutheran Church.

She is survived by one niece, Mrs. Charles Herron of Columbiana, and two nephews, Glenn B. Gleckler of Salem and Victor Wilhelm of North Lima.

Services will be at 1:30 p. m. Thursday at the Fry Funeral Home in charge of Rev. Frank Lillie, pastor of the First Christian Church. Burial will be in the Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Dairy Association Meeting Postponed

LISBON — The annual meeting of the Columbiana-Mahoning Dairy Herd Improvement Association scheduled for Monday evening was canceled because of the weather and rescheduled for Dec. 17 at 8 p. m. at Goshen Grange hall.

There will be an election of three board members.

Kenneth Brown, Trumbull County dairyman, will discuss his use of the electronic data processing method of dairy herd record keeping.

All association members are urged to attend. J. Harold McCullough, Salem RD 2, president, will preside.

COURT-MARTIALED — Col. John A. Herrington, former nuclear weapons specialist charged with the murder of his wife and the attempted murder of a son, is shown during court-martial at Kelly AFB, Tex.

A DOMESTIC SCENE—It may appear that Connie the budgerigar is facing up to Tino, a Pomeranian dog, that climbed onto its cage at their home in Frankfurt, West Germany. However, both animals are family pets and have never battled in the past.

tinued their snow clean-up today.

New snow accumulations are forecast in the form of flurries and squalls, and temperatures today and Wednesday will be in the teens and near to below zero tonight. The mercury hit a low of 2 below at the Salem sewage disposal plant at 6 a. m. today.

More Snow On Way

Total snow accumulation in the district will be about one inch over the next 24 hours, although the extreme northeastern counties in Ohio are bracing for an expected five inches or more.

Highways closed by a new snowfall ranging up to two feet in extreme Northeast Ohio gradually were being reopened to traffic today.

Many schools — including all those in Cleveland schools — were shut down in the snow-hit area.

The Highway Patrol said main highways—including U.S. 20 and Interstate 90—had been plowed but still were hazardous for driving. Secondary roads in the northern part of Ashtabula County still were impassable, the patrol said.

Strong winds that piled the snow into huge drifts complicated the task of clearing the highways.

Monday's snowfall, added to what already was on the ground, left snow depths up to 30 inches in some areas. The U.S. Weather Bureau in Cleveland said Ashtabula County could expect at least two to four more inches of new snow by this morning.

The snowfall tapered off to the east and south of Ashtabula. Conneaut reported 11 inches while the southern part of the county had only one to three inches of new snow.

In nearby Lake and Geauga counties, the snowfall ranged from two to six inches in areas hit by up to two feet of snow in last week's storm. The Weather Bureau said eastern Geauga County also would have an additional two to four inches by this morning.

The heavy snow and blustery weather of the past week have been blamed for the deaths of 22 persons in Ohio. Most were heart attack victims stricken while shoveling snow or pushing stalled cars.

The Sandusky County villages of Lindsey and Kansas, near Fremont, were isolated Monday as snow drifts blocked roads leading into the communities. Residents reported shortage of bread and milk.

A large section of the roof of a large section of the roof of the Cow Palace, an exhibition arena, at the Cuyahoga County Fairgrounds in Berea, collapsed Monday as a result of last week's snowstorm. The fairgrounds caretaker, Frank B. Richards, said a 25-by-60-foot section of roof collapsed under the weight of an estimated four tons of snow, some of which was blown onto the building from nearby structures.

Greenford

Greenford School menu for the week is as follows:

Wednesday — Beef stew, tossed salad, peanut butter sandwich, lemon dessert, milk.

Thursday — Sloppy Joes, butter beans, fruit, milk.

Friday — Macaroni and cheese, egg sandwich, buttered carrots, pear half, milk.

Truck, Car Towed Away After Crash

A truck and an automobile had to be taken away by wrecker as the result of an accident involving three vehicles on W. State St. at the intersection of Sharp Ave. at 3:15 p. m. Monday. No one was injured.

A car driven by Carol Abbott, 27, of 496 W. Pershing St., headed west on State, stopped to make a left turn onto Sharp, and was followed by an automobile operated by Edwin O. Pease, 37, of 1915 Fairview Court, which stopped behind the Abbott car. A truck owned by Sugardale Provisions Co. of Canton and operated by William A. Hebebrand of Canton, also going west, followed the Pease car but was unable to stop because of icy pavement. The truck ran into the rear of the Pease car, which then struck the Abbott car.

Damage to the Salem man's car and the Canton truck was so extensive the two vehicles had to be hauled away. The rear end of the Abbott car also was damaged.

Plaintiff Favored By Jury In Suit

LISBON — A verdict of $301.95 was returned in favor of the plaintiff by a jury late Monday afternoon in the civil suit of the Kensington Supply Company against Edwin Jarrett, Hanover RD 1. Jarrett also was ordered to return a tractor to the firm.

Kensington Supply claimed that on Nov. 1, 1960, Jarrett took a tractor and power lawn mower from the company and refused to return them.

Jarrett, in a counter suit, said the company owed him $4,312.76 for extra work, use of his equipment and overtime pay while he was an employee of the company.

The trial began Dec. 5 but was recessed last Friday when two jurors were unable to get to the Courthouse because of the snow. Testimony was completed Monday morning before Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Civil Defense director for the village.

The street committee reported that the lot back of the John Brenner property had been slugged.

The meeting was attended by Mayor Hart, the clerk, four councilmen, the solicitor, treasurer L. E. Falloon, deputy marshal Roy Painter and eight citizens.

Councilmen not present were William McGranahan, who is a patient in Crile Hospital in Cleveland, and Mervin McKarns.

Ohio

Nance urged "an initial expenditure of $100 million in each area" with an immediate appropriation of $10 million to operate the authority.

The report's recommendations included:

Assessing manufacturers' development facilities at 30 per cent of value instead of 70 per cent.

Assessing manufacturers' inventories at 50 per cent regardless of where kept.

Revising depreciation and obsolescence rates for machinery and equipment.

Broader exemption for goods stored in Ohio to encourage warehousing.

A 40 per cent fair market value ceiling on realty assessment and equalization among taxing districts and classes of property.

Extending sales tax exemptions to research and development.

No increase in the three - mill franchise tax.

Steps to insure that workmen's compensation benefits are paid only to those unable to work.

A boost in the depleted unemployment compensation fund to $300 million on the present $3,000 tax base through tightening the law dealing with qualifications and disqualifications from benefits while maintaining the present 26-week duration with provisions for emergencies.

When you phone a man on business, don't call him at home.

to admit any international inspectors at all.

Stelle, speaking today to the three-power test-ban subcommittee, said the Soviet readiness to allow foreign inspectors to service the black boxes shows that the Russians no longer fear foreign inspectors would engage in espionage activities.

$100 Damage Caused By Fire In Lisbon

LISBON — About $100 damage was caused by a fire at 5:30 a. m. today at the home of Jackson Randolph, 321 Caldwell Ave.

The blaze broke out around the chimney in the kitchen.

Firemen said the house is owned by Lois Eells.

The loss is covered by insurance, firemen said.

Glenmoor Youth Held In Car Theft

LISBON — A 14-year-old Glenmoor youth is expected to be returned to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster as a parole violator after being apprehended early Monday morning in a car stolen from Stewart Snyder of Glenmoor.

The car became stuck in a snow drift, and the youth was taken into custody by Constable John Jackson.

A 15-year-old East Liverpool girl accompanying the boy will have a hearing today in Juvenile Court. The girl was reported missing at 1:44 a. m. Monday by her father.

Hanoverton Legion To Meet Thursday

HANOVERTON—The American Legion will hold its monthly meeting Thursday night at 8 at the post home, with Commander Kenneth Wickersham presiding.

West Branch Board Will Meet Tonight

Progress on the new high school building will be among reports to be presented tonight at a session of the Board of Education of the West Branch School District.

The board also plans some action on water treatment at Knox School. Other items on the agenda include the presentation of the official report on election returns, price quotations on a refrigeration unit for the new school and a gas house building, and action on the flasher lights at Goshen Center and at the high school.

You can play a real musical instrument in minutes... without lessons or experience with the

MAGNUS
ELECTRIC CHORD ORGAN

If you can read numbers, you can play any kind of music from classical to jazz—tonight, in your own home.

You simply match the numbers in the Song Books with the numbered keys of the Magnus Electric Chord Organ keyboard. You needn't know one note from another, though they're there for those who do. You play full, resonant chord accompaniment, too.

You, yes you press a key—and out comes MUSIC! Real music, full timbered, rich, mellow, and wide of range... vibrant with the authentic "breathing" of organ tones and overtones, because Magnus uses the same principle of passing air over reeds as you find in the mightiest church organs.

Truly, Magnus is unmatched at its price for workmanship, cabinetry, and tonal quality.

Available in blonde mahogany or traditional walnut only $29.00

Hundreds and hundreds of songs to play...
Classical • Folk and Hymns • Popular Hits
• Even Jazz... all without a single lesson!

Remember it's a lot more fun to make music than just listen to it

Just Be Quiet!

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Invitations and comments that can lead to disaster:

"As a recognized leader in the community, you are one of a select few we are extending this unusual opportunity for a limited time only, so—

"Oh, come on now, get into the spirit of the thing. You can learn to do 'the twist' at any age. You put this foot here, that foot here, then swivel your—"

"Yes, we'd like you to join the rest of us in a quiet poker game Friday night. Nothing big, you understand. Just show up with a few blank checks and a bushel basket to carry your winnings home in."

"We at your friendly neighborhood Internal Revenue Service office would like you to drop in at 10 a.m. next Monday. There are a few deductions—36 to be exact—in your 1960 income tax return we'd like to have you explain in more detail. Of course, if you have any records to substantiate your—"

"So what if you do have your best sports coat on, Joe? This is nondrip paint. Here, take a brush. You do the ceiling while I finish the walls."

"I dare you to say that just once more!"

"Step on the gas, Jim. You can pass that car before we can get to the top of the hill."

"When I was your age, I always rode without holding on to the handle bars. Give me that bike—I'll show you!"

"Look, boss, if you don't think my ideas are constructive, I can always peddle them somewhere else."

"If you really want me to be frank about what I think about your side of the family, Mabel, let me begin by saying that—"

"While naturally we can't guarantee that these low-priced stocks will double in value overnight, we are optimistic that within a year—"

"After all, you can't fly on one wing, Albert, old buddy buddy."

HOUSE ON A CREEK—Retired contractor Don Hall built retaining walls along the banks of a small creek in a picturesque setting near Ripley, W. Va., then built a carport and a comfortable four room home across the stream.

And the martinis here are the mildest. "I told Jimmy my Daddy could whip his Daddy. You'll show 'em, won't you Daddy?"

"You can put the star on top of the tree if you just stand on this small stool, dear, and—oops, there goes our Christmas."

West Point Mothers Plan Coverdish

WEST POINT—The West Point Mothers Club will hold a coverdish luncheon at the school Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. with a business meeting to follow. Mrs. William Reynolds, president, will preside.

Helen I. Delong vs Cecil Gordon Delong; court finds defendant in contempt of court and sentences him to 10 days in the county jail.

Freda J. Deen vs Jerry L. Deen; temporary custody of minor children awarded to plaintiff; defendant ordered to pay $35 per week toward support pending final disposition.

Welfare Children's Fund Short of Goal

LISBON—The fund for Christmas presents for the county welfare children is about $200 short of its goal of $1,500, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director.

Bycroft requests all persons and organizations that wish to donate to send their contributions as soon as possible so that presents can be purchased for the children by Saturday.

County Commissioners Attending Convention

LISBON—Columbiana County Commissioners Galen Greenisen, Frank Wilson and Walter Huns-ton and Rex Reich, clerk, are attending the state commissioners convention in Columbus this week.

County Auditor Kenneth Bell and Mrs. Helen Cavanaugh, clerk, attended the auditors convention in Columbus last week at which time Bell was named vice president of the northeast area, which consists of 22 counties. He served as secretary-treasurer of the group this past year.

Louis Kramer of Columbiana, county sealer of weights and measures, also attended the state sealer of weights convention last week.

Recorder Richard Brian and Chief Deputy Margaret Laughlin attended the recorders convention at Columbus at the same time, as did Carl Stacey Jr., clerk of courts, who was elected to the legislative committee of the state group.

Salem's Annual Grid Dinner Attracts 275 Persons

6 Seniors Get Various Awards

Hiram's Bob Dove Is Guest Speaker

Six seniors received awards during the Salem Boosters Club annual football banquet held at the Senior High School cafeteria Monday night.

Approximately 275 persons attended the event, and listened to Hiram Head Football Coach Bob Dove tell about his college days at Notre Dame.

The former professional coach and player warned fathers not to force their boys, but to encourage them to play sports.

Dove told the mothers attending the dinner, "If your boy wants to play football, let him play where he'll have organized ball, and the best equipment."

He pointed out the boy would play anyway, and probably find football where his chances of getting hurt were far greater.

"IF YOU SENIORS don't go on to college, it is doubtful that you will ever play another game of organized football," Dove declared.

He warned the athletes that the first thing scouts look for in prospective football candidates, is what kind of marks they have in their school work.

"Winning isn't the most important thing, it is the only thing, and that's the way will be for you in the future," Dove commented. Dick Stark was given the Knights of Columbus trophy for his outstanding scholastic ability, and for competing with the varsity squad for three years.

Joe Loutzenhiser Jr. presented the trophy. It is the 18th straight year that the award has been given by the K of C.

Salem Boosters Club President Clair Leeper gave duplicate awards to outstanding linemen Marlin Waller and Tad Bonsall.

THE FOOTBALL players chosen the most valuable player Nov. 15 and the Salem News presented a trophy to the squads' selection Bill Beery.

Salem Coach Blaine Morton presented the most improved player award to Dave Taus. He also gave plaques to his tri-captains Dave Capel, George Johnston and Beery.

Toastmaster for the event was Ford Joseph, president of the Salem City Council.

Joseph introduced Salem High School athletic director Fred Cope who in turn introduced the Salem football team and her court and the cheerleaders.

Morton introduced his coaching staff, saying, "Without them, the team would have had little success."

BOB MARTIN, Mike Guappone, Bob Miller and Merlin Davidson are members of the staff.

* The Salem mentor also had praise for the job that the Junior High coaches had done during the past season.

He also cited several other persons for their contribution during the 1962 football campaign.

Morton felt that the highlights of the season were the 18-13 win over Farrell, Pa., and the 12-0 shutout over Dover to end the campaign.

He introduced his varsity squad which included sophomores, juniors and seniors.

MEMBERS OF the quad who graduate in June are Bob Melitska, George Perrault, Tom Gibb, RECEIVE FOOTBALL AWARDS — Six awards were given during the annual football banquet honoring Salem Players, coaches and cheerleaders at Senior High School Monday night. Boys who received awards were (l. to r.) Dave Taus, most improved player; Marlin Waller, outstanding lineman; Dick Stark, Knights of Columbus; Bill Beery, most valuable player; Tad Bonsall, outstanding lineman and Dave Capel, senior plaque. George Johnston, who wasn't present, and Beery also were awarded plaques.

Lenny Filler, George Johnston, Rudy Hrovatic, Jim Morrison, Ron Evans, Bill Winter, Tad Bonsall, Dick Stark, Bill Beery, Dave Capel, Dave Taus and Marlin Waller.

The invocation was given by Rev. Fr. Kevin P. Coleman of St. Paul's Church.

The banquet committee included Dick Loutzenhiser, Calvin Filler, Arnold Kovach, George Reader, Walter DeJane, Martin Debnar, A. P. Schmauch, Gilbert Everhart, Harry Chilson, Leeper, Cope and Morton.

Dove was contacted Sunday for the dinner. He replaced Johnny Pont who was unable to attend because of other commitments.

The dinner had been originally scheduled for last Saturday night, but was postponed so that the Salem basketball team could open at home against Columbus East.

Detroit Whips Xavier 93-75

Bowling Green's tall and talented Falcons, the team to beat in the Mid-American Conference, crushed their second victim of the campaign—Western Ontario—97-46.

Big, 6-foot-10 Nate Thurmond scored 21 points while playing about half of the game. Bowling Green, which meets Miami Wednesday, hit on 55.1 per cent of its field goal tries.

Toledo, with Ray Wolford scoring 25 points and grabbing 16 rebounds, came from behind in the second half to defeat Eastern Kentucky 63-55. The Maroons, winless in three games, held a 40-32 lead shot ahead to 59-48 to clinch the early in the second half, but the Rockets tied it at 43-43 and then won, Toledo is 2-1.

Xavier could not cope with Detroit's balanced scoring attack—five men were in double figures—and was defeated by the Titans 93-75. It was the Musketeers' third loss in four starts. Detroit is 3-1. Bob Pelkington had 20 points for the losers.

Huntington of Indian turned on the famed hoosier fast-break to run over winless Bluffton 72-64.

Bridges' 49 Aren't Enough As Steers Lose

Even with Bill Bridges on a red-hot scoring tear, it will be a while before the Kansas City Steers catch the Long Beach Chiefs in the race for first place in the American Basketball League.

Bridges, coming off a 55-point burst that set an ABL season high, scored 29 points Monday night against the Chicago Majors. It turned out he—and the Steers—needed two more.

Mel Davis got them—on a rebound with five seconds left—and the Majors took a 108-107 overtime decision in Kansas City. The loss dropped the second place Steers 1½ games behind the idle Chiefs when a victory would have left them but a half game off the pace.

In the only other game scheduled, Oakland took advantage of the absence of Pittsburgh's scoring ace, Connie Hawkins, and trimmed the Rens 96-93. Hawkins was resting in an Oakland hotel after suffering a head injury in a game with Long Beach on Sunday.

The Foresters (5-4) never trailed. Another Hoosier team, Tri-State, also led all the way to defeat Defiance 88-79. The Yellow Jackets pulled to within four points, 69-65, but the Engineers stopped the rally and went on to win.

In an Ohio Conference game that was snowed off of last Friday's schedule, Marietta evened its record at 1-1 in a 66-55 decision over Oberlin (0-2). The teams were on equal ground throughout the first half and into the second period before the Pioneers, with Carl Wolfe leading the way, outscored Oberlin 9-1 to go into a 55-45 lead. Wolfe, who scored five points in the outburst, was high-point man with 18.

MISSING THE VICTORY
COLUMBUS (AP) — Grandview high school's football team worked all season to gain a victory. But Coach Robin Priday wasn't around to enjoy it.

He had just been recalled to Air Force service as a major with his reserve troop carrier outfit as a result of the Cuban situation.

Nebraska Will Battle Miami

Gotham Bowl Tilt Set For Saturday

NEW YORK (AP) — Nebraska and Miami were planning today to go ahead with the Gotham Bowl football game here next Saturday, even though all they are sure of getting out of it at this stage—is the time of day.

Problems over financial arrangements for the teams, the lack of a television tie-up and a newspaper strike in New York that may doom the game to be played without a publicity build-up, cast a cloud over it.

Bob Curran, director of the game, refused comment on the financial problems, but said he had rented Yankee Stadium and ordered 125 wrist watches for the officials and players.

Nebraska Athletic Director Tip Dye said he is confident the Bowl will meet its financial commitments and the game will go on.

It is planned for 11 a.m., EST. Curran's estimated attendance of 30,000 may be optimistic. Last year's inaugural game between Utah State and Baylor drew less than 15,000.

Miami Athletic Director Jack Harding said he had been assured that a check for "approximately $30,000 would be placed in escrow by Wednesday, according to our agreement."

Dye has asked for a $35,000 deposit "because that's what our expenses will be."

Miami, as it has all year, will depend heavily on the passing of All-America George Mira, the flashy junior quarterback who led the team to a 7-3 mark.

Jim Ninowski Says Quarterback Should Run Team

NEW YORK (AP)—The quarterback is "supposed to be the leader," and he should call the plays, says Jim Ninowski.

The Cleveland quarterback was quick to add that he and Paul Brown, coach of the National Football League Browns, had worked out a good compromise.

Talking to the Touchdown Club Monday, Ninowski said he and Brown "had worked it out early in the season so that I used the checkoffs to change the play when the defense shifted."

"Everybody knows Paul Brown calls the plays with his club. . . ."

Then he said he thought a quarterback should call the plays. "You are supposed to be the leader. You have to feel a play will work. Sometimes when a play comes off the bench, you sense by the changes of defense it won't work. That is one reason for the checkoff. We had worked out a pretty good arrangement before I was hurt."

"Since then, the coach has been calling all the plays."

Ninowski was the Browns' No. 1 quarterback until a dislocated left shoulder suffered Oct. 28 in Pittsburgh sidelined him for the rest of the season.

All-Stars Chosen In Mid-American

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Mid-American Conference champion Bowling Green, Miami and Ohio University accounted for 11 of the 13 first team positions on the all-conference football team announced today.

The dream team, selected by the seven Mid-Am coaches, had two ties, at tackle and quarterback.

Bowling Green and Miami each placed four men on the first team and Ohio U., runner-up for the conference crown, had three on the squad.

In addition, Bowling Green's place kicker, Asa Elsea, was given a special award. The senior from Circleville has hooted 68 extra points in 74 tries during the past three seasons.

Kent State and Marshall each placed one on the team.

Three of Bowling Green's choices were picked unanimously—guard Gary Sherman, tackle Bob Reynolds and halfback Don Lisbon. Sherman joins Miami tackle Tom Nomina as the only first team repeaters from the 1961

Twelve of the 13 choices hail from the 1962 All-Mid-American Conference team:

Lane's Trading Is Restricted In NBA

By GORDON BEARD
BALTIMORE (AP)—The switch from baseball to basketball hasn't changed Frank Lane.
As general manager of the Chicago Zephyrs in the National Basketball Association, Lane still is ready to wheel and deal players.
"My trading is restricted now," Lane said as he watched the Zephyrs play the Detroit Pistons in Baltimore's Civic Center Monday night. "But only because I have a lesser number of players to deal."
While serving as general manager of four baseball clubs, Lane had available as trade bait 40 players on each major league roster and approximately another 200 in the minor leagues.
But even a 12-man playing roster in the NBA hasn't dimmed his desire for trading, only the volume.
"I figure I've made about a dozen swaps involving at least 25 players since I joined the Zephyrs on May 1," Lane said. Only four players who finished last season with Chicago are on the current roster, but Lane indicated he wasn't through trading.
"As far as I'm concerned we have only two untouchables—Terry Dischinger and Walt Bellamy," Dischinger, a part-time player while finishing his studies at Purdue, was not on hand as Detroit scored a 109-100 victory in the only NBA game played Monday night. Bellamy, rookie of the year last season, scored 36 points and hauled down 16 rebounds.
"Of course I miss baseball," Lane said. "After all, my entire life was wrapped up in the game.
But this job is exciting, because it's a challenge trying to put over pro basketball in Chicago. We weren't accepted too well last year, but we have a club with good potential and attendance is picking up this season."

Duke Is Selected 2nd; Loyola Places 4th

Cincinnati Remains No. 1 In AP Poll; OSU Voted 3rd

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ohio State's flashy Buckeyes jumped right into the thick of contention for college basketball honors but Cincinnati's defending champions easily maintained their lofty station as the nation's No. 1 team in the weekly Associated Press poll today.
As a matter of fact, it was a breeze for the unbeaten Bearcats, who received all but one of the votes cast by a panel of 45 sports writers and sportscasters. The lone first-place vote not garnered by Cincinnati went to the Duke Blue Devils, who were placed second for the second straight week.
Cincinnati gathered 449 out of a possible 450 points on a 10-9-8-7 basis with 44 firsts and one second. Duke piled up a sufficient number of second-place votes to beat out Ohio State for second place with 365 points to the Buckeyes' 212.
Ohio State, which rolled up its fourth straight victory Saturday with a 76-69 whipping of highly-ranked West Virginia, was one of three newcomers to the top ten. The others were Colorado, the defending Big Eight champion, which burst into eighth place and Illinois of the Big Ten, which moved into tenth.

High-scoring Loyola of Chicago clung to its fourth place spot and Mississippi State, preseason co-favorite with Kentucky for the Southeastern Conference crown, remained fifth. West Virginia fell three pegs from third to sixth, Wisconsin skidded a notch to seventh and Oregon State fell two places to ninth.
Indiana, Kentucky and Wichita, which held the last three places in last week's top ten, fell out of the elite group altogether.
Cincinnati, with the same team that won the NCAA crown last year except for Paul Hogue, rolled over George Washington 86-58 Saturday for its fourth victory. Duke remained unbeaten, posting its third victory with a 92-56 rout of Maryland.

Terry, Aguirre, And Pascual Share ML Pitching Honors

BOSTON (AP)—Southpaw Hank Aguirre of Detroit and right-handers Ralph Terry of the New York Yankees and Camilo Pascual of Minnesota shared honors among American League pitchers the official 1962 records released today revealed.
Aguirre, who became a full-fledged starting pitcher last season, won the earned run title with a 2.21 average. He yielded 53 earned runs in 216 innings while posting a 16-8 record.
Terry won the most games, 23, and was the circuit's workhorse with 299 innings pitched. He also yielded the most home runs, 40.
Pascual, who won 20 games, was the pace-setter in strikeouts, 206, and complete games, 18. He also shared the lead in shutouts with teammate Jim Kaat and Cleveland's Dick Donovan. Each

Abner Haynes Nears Leader

Needs 129 Yards In Rushing Race

DALLAS (AP)—Abner Haynes, the flying Dallas halfback, needs one of his most productive days if he is to dislodge Cookie Gilchrist, the huge Buffalo line-runner, from the top in American Football League rushing.
Gilchrist closed out last week with a 143-yard performance against New York for a league record total of 1,096. Haynes, who has another game to play, trails by 129 yards.
Houston's Charley Tolar, the league's busiest ball-carrier, also is within reach but would have to muster a super showing. He is 189 yards behind Gilchrist.

Haynes rolls for the last time against San Diego here Sunday. Tolar's final appearance will be at New York Saturday.
Len Dawson of Dallas leads the passers and should be "in" since the second place man, Babe Parilli of Boston, is out of action and third-place Frank Tripucka of Denver has finished the season.
Lionel Taylor of Denver also appears to have the pass-receiving crown stowed away for the third straight year. Taylor has taken 77 passes for 908 yards and is 14 catches ahead of his nearest competitor—Art Powell of New York.
The scoring championship, however, is still up in the air. Gene Mingo of Denver has wound up with 137 points but is only nine ahead of Gino Cappelletti of Boston, who has a game left. Gilchrist finished with 128 points, the same number Cappelletti has.

P. O., Furnace Post Volleyball Victories

Electric Furnace Office and the Post Office swept to three straight victories in Volleyball League action at the Memorial Building Monday.
The Post Office ripped Electric Furnace Engineering 15-8, 15-7 and 15-5.
Electric Furnace Office whipped P.A.'s 15-9, 15-9 and 15-1.

MASSILLON (AP) — When the injured index finger of John A. Webb's bowling hand became infected, the doctor put it in a splint. Webb agreed to sub in a local bowling league anyway — and rolled a 706 series.

Old Dutch, Salem Tech Win City Cage League Contests

Five players scored in double figures to spark Old Dutch to an easy 75-45 victory over Southeast Plaza in City Basketball League competition at the Memorial Building Monday night.
In another contest Salem Tech whipped Coca Cola 80-68, and Damascus Auction was awarded a forfeit over Lisbon Merchants.
Old Dutch posted its fourth straight win, while handing Southeast Plaza its first loss in four tries.
The winners led all the way with quarter scores of 14-8, 32-17 and 54-29.
Clyde Shoff led Old Dutch with 16 points. Ed Daugherty made 15.

Arv Breniser and Lee Chamberlain combined for 41 points to lead Salem Tech to its fourth win in six starts.
Coca Cola was handed its second loss in four tries.
The winners led all the way with quarter scores of 18-9, 36-27 and 54-42.
Breniser chalked up 21 points for Tech. Chamberlain had 20. Don Conser tallied 16 markers, and Lendak had 12.
Jerry Billingsley paced Coca Cola with 16 points. Kenny Wilt had 14 and Jerry Greiner and Hill chipped in with 10 each.

Traditional rickshaw is pulled through a side street—a touch of the past.

NEW STREETS

RIVERS OF HUMANITY are the streets of Calcutta—changeless and constantly flowing through a city that is changing itself. New buildings, homes, schools are transforming the face of Calcutta, but the spirit of old India still lingers. Sleeping dogs and sidewalk markets, sacred cows and rickshaws—all remind Indians of their past. Reminding them of the future are the new office buildings going up in the city. Through it all, though, their minds are very much in the present as they await the latest news from the areas where forces of India oppose those of invading Reds.

NEEDS TWIN CARRIAGE — Edith Dowling's mother would like to borrow a twin carriage because her six-month-old daughter, with 45-pound casts on both legs, is too heavy to carry. Edith, born with dislocated hip, has worn the casts two months and must wear them four more months until it is removed. Edith is steadied by her sister, Denise, 4½, in their Boston home.

Postal Workers Party Given At Columbiana

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana Post Office employees and their husbands and wives held a Christmas party Saturday at the Parkview House in Canfield.

Places for the 26 persons present at the dinner were marked with ceramic favors made by Mrs. Frieda Berryman.

Three employees received safety awards given by the National Council of the Post Office Department for safe operation of motor vehicles.

The following men received the awards for consecutive years without an accident: Paul Price, 16 years, Elbert Lynn, six years and Ernest Martin, five years.

Postmaster and Mrs. Lloyd Crawford were in charge of arrangements, program and entertainment.

WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN Temperance Union will hold a Christmas party at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Methodist Church. Members are to bring a cover-dish and table service. Rolls and coffee will be furnished.

A 25 cent gift exchange will be held and Rev. Gerald Finnie of Salineville will be guest speaker.

COLUMBIANA BOAT AND SKI

Club will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Theron's Clubrooms for a Christmas party.

Hosts and hostesses are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Olenick and Mr. and Mrs. William Engberg.

Cards will be the diversion following a short business meeting.

FRIENDLY CLASS of Grace Church will hold a Christmas dinner at 6:30 p.m. Saturday to be served by the King Daughters class.

Mr. and Mrs. George Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Young and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ferrall are the committee in charge.

Rev. H. W. Theidit will have devotions and lead in carol singing. Mrs. Clarence Kissinger will give analyses of handwriting. White elephant exchange will be kitchen utensils for the women and tools for the men.

COLUMBIANA CLASSROOM association is having a Christmas party at the South Side School Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. to be served by P.T.O. members.

Mrs. Karen Evans is in charge of the tables and Mrs. Sarah Groner will have the program. The other teachers of Joshua Dixon School are on the committees.

In place of a gift exchange the group will donate to the County Welfare Fund. "Bells at Christmas," a film strip and record, will be part of the program.

ERROR CLEARED UP CINCINNATI (AP) — The case of five apparently unregistered persons who voted in the sixth ward last month has been cleared up. The answer: sloppy record keeping.

The Hamilton County Board of Elections announced Monday an investigation showed the voters' signatures were recorded incorrectly. Inexperienced polling place officials were blamed for the error.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A word from THERON at the Country Store

I have been asked to inform the people that it is no longer necessary to be on the look-out for the grey Dodge. In its place they can expect to see a black Chrysler sedan with a white top.

I have not been writing about this subject lately because some improvement has been reported to me in their administration of justice. This is highly appreciated by the good people of the community.

Three Children Die In Athens Blaze

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Three children burned to death early today and their mother and infant brother were burned critically when fire destroyed their frame house at Sharnpsburg about 20 miles northeast of here.

The dead, children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holbert, were Carl Holbert Jr., 3; Fred, 5; and Marlene, 7.

The 29-year-old mother and a son Ronald, nine month, were taken to Marietta Hospital with serious burns.

A fifth child, Jeffery, 2, escaped unhurt.

It was reported that the mother had managed to gather up the two smaller children and take them from the flaming house.

The father was at work at the time.

Authorities said they were making an investigation to determine the cause of the blaze.

Report Issued on Ohio Road Projects

Division 11 of the State Highway Department at New Philadelphia has reported the completion of one major stretch of highway and good progress on two other road improvements in November.

Major highway construction contracts in the district totaled $23,447,748 at the beginning of December, which included the cost of the 2.5-mile Route 30 expressway into East Liverpool which has been finished.

The 2.7-mile relocation of Route 30 from East Liverpool north to State Route 170 near Calcutta is one-fourth complete, while the short relocation of Route 172 east of New Garden and bridge replacement is less than one-fourth finished.

SUIT IS DISMISSED

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) — A $275,000 damage suit filed by Lakeville Village against nine officers of the Lakeville Civic Progressive Committee has been dismissed by Judge Roland Pontius of Ashtabula County Common Pleas Court. The judge said the plaintiff had not filed an amended petition as ordered by the court.

The village claimed in its suit that the committee's opposition to a Lakeville water system had delayed the system's construction and added to its cost.

Ohio Board To Regulate Age Of Children Starting School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Board of Education has started action in an attempt to make certain there will be no more kindergarten-age youngsters in the first grade of Ohio's public schools.

The laws governing the age for admittance to the first grade vary greatly around the state.

The board announced Monday it will urge the General Assembly to set Sept. 15 as the date when all children entering the first grade must be six years old.

The board said it was asking that the law become effective Sept. 1, 1966, so that school districts can gradually adjust their admission requirements to the proposed statewide date.

The entrance requirement would not apply in school districts which use educationally accepted psychological testing programs rather than a specific age and date to determine entrance.

The request to the legislature also will include provision for another qualifying date to apply in school districts which admit first grade pupils at the start of the second semester.

The board gave an official slap to an unidentified school board in Mahoning County which demands that students achieve an average grade of at least a "C" in certain seventh and eighth grade subjects in order to be admitted to college preparatory courses and to take other advanced courses.

The slap was in the form of a resolution, offered by E. E. Meyers of Ironton, calling the regulation "unreasonable."

In another action the board proposed, following a three-month study by the Department of Education, creation of a countywide school district in Logan County.

The district would comprise all territory in five local Logan County school districts plus the Bellefontaine City District.

Subject to voter approval at the May 1963 election, the district would be formed officially July 1, 1963. Morgan County has the
